INTRODUCTION

This study was commissioned by the City of Scottsdale. The primary purpose of this effort was to determine the travel patterns of individuals who contacted the Scottsdale Convention and Visitors Bureau (SCVB) for Scottsdale tourism information. More specifically, this study focused on the following key areas:

- Travel to Scottsdale since contacting the SCVB
- Characteristics of trips made to Scottsdale (length of stay, trip purpose, trip timing, accommodations, travel mode, party configuration, trip spending)
- Activities participated in while in Scottsdale
- Evaluation of Scottsdale as a travel destination
- Sources of travel information
- Internet usage patterns
- Inquirer demographics

This study represents the 18th annual Visitor Inquiry Study commissioned by the City in this series. The information contained in this report is based on 710 in-depth interviews with individuals who contacted the SCVB via either: 1) the call center, a business reply card (BRC) or a reader service listing (RSL) or 2) the Bureau's website. Those individuals who contacted the SCVB via the call center, BRC or RSL were primarily interviewed via telephone survey (120 interviews), while those who made contact via the website were interviewed via a web-based survey (590 interviews).

The sample for this study was segmented to include no less than 175 individuals who contacted the SCVB over each of four specific time periods – April-June 2014, July-September 2014, October-December 2014, January-March 2015.

The telephone interviewing segment of this research was conducted by professional interviewers of the Behavior Research Center during August 2015 at the Center's central location Computer-Aided Telephone Interviewing facility, while the web-based interviewing segment was also conducted during August. Similar to each of the prior surveys, the final study data was weighted to reflect the actual distribution of web and non-web based contacts with the SCVB. The margin of error for this study is approximately +/-3.8 percent at a 95 percent confidence level.

The information generated from this study is presented in three sections. The first section, Overview, offers the primary findings of the study in a brief summary format. The second section, Summary Of Findings, reviews each study question in detail. The final section, Appendix, contains a copy of the survey questionnaire.

The Behavior Research Center has presented all of the data germane to the basic research objectives of this project. However, if the City of Scottsdale requires additional data retrieval or interpretation, we stand ready to provide such input.

BEHAVIOR RESEARCH CENTER

OVERVIEW

KEY STUDY FINDINGS

The overall Scottsdale visitation reading (have visited/will visit) of 85 percent represents an increase from last year's reading of 80 percent and the first year over year increase since 2012. The actual visitation reading of 58 percent represents a 12-point increase from 46 percent last year.

The typical inquirer was 61.1 years old, with 71 percent of all inquirers being 55 years old or older – the first time since the start of these studies that the median age of inquirers has exceeded 60 years. The median age of inquirers has increased from 56.1 to 61.1 over the past five years. In addition, Scottsdale inquirers continue to be an affluent group with a median household income of $92,000 – down from $103,900 in 2013 and $97,400 in 2014.

The median length of stay by Scottsdale visitors is 5.4 nights – unchanged from last year but down from 6.3 nights in 2011.

The typical visitor travel party size is 2.6 persons, down slightly from 2.8 persons last year and 3.0 in 2011.

Fifty-seven percent of visitors stayed in a hotel, motel or resort – down from last year's unusually high reading of 67 percent.

Average daily spending by overnight visitors decreased to $353 from $400 last year.

Ninety-five percent of visitors continue to rate Scottsdale as an excellent (49%) or good (46%) vacation destination (little changed from the past several years) and 90 percent would recommend Scottsdale to a friend or family member.

SCOTTSDALE VISITATION PATTERNS (TABLES 1 - 4)

- Fifty-eight percent of inquirers have visited Scottsdale since contacting the CVB, while an additional 27 percent indicate they will visit in the next 12 months. This overall visitation reading of 85 percent represents an increase from last year's reading of 80 percent and the first year over year increase since 2012. Also note that the actual visitation reading of 58 percent is up from 46 percent last year.
- Fifty-five percent of past visitors indicate they will visit Scottsdale again in the next year – in line with prior years.
- Eighty-seven percent of all inquirers have visited Scottsdale at least once during the past three years. Further, 42 percent of inquirers who visited during the study cycle have visited three or more times over the past three years.

SCOTTSDALE VISITATION PATTERNS

INQUIRER DEMOGRAPHICS (TABLE 5)

- Females account for 59 percent of inquiries – little changed from the past several years.
- The typical inquirer was 61.1 years old, with 71 percent of all inquirers being 55 years old or older – the first time since the start of these studies that the median age of inquirers has exceeded 60 years. The median age of inquirers has increased from 56.1 to 61.1 over the past five years.
- Scottsdale inquirers continue to be an affluent group with a median household income of $92,000 – a figure which is down from $97,400 in 2014. Individuals who have visited the city reveal the highest median incomes ($98,400).
- Twenty-seven percent of inquirers come from the Midwest, 24 percent from the West, 13 percent from the Northeast, 13 percent from the South and 23 percent are foreign.

TRIP CHARACTERISTICS (TABLES 6-11)

- The typical visitor to Scottsdale spent 5.4 nights, with 58 percent staying five nights or more. Each of these readings is unchanged from last year.
- The majority of visitors (59%) continue to use a rental vehicle to get around during their visit while 32 percent use their personal vehicle.
- Similar to prior years, 38 percent of inquirers who visited Scottsdale did so during the January to March 2015 period.
- The typical travel party size among inquirers who have visited the city is 2.6 persons, down from 2.8 last year and 3.0 in 2011.
- Fifty-seven percent of Scottsdale visitors stay at either a full-service hotel (24%), a luxury resort (21%) or a limited-service hotel or motel (12%). This overall hotel reading is down from last year's unusually high reading of 67 percent (the highest since 2007).
- The typical overnight Scottsdale visitor party spent $353 per day while in Scottsdale (down from $400), while the typical day tripper spent $155 (down from $185).

OVERNIGHT VISITOR TRIP SPENDING

TRAVEL TO OTHER DESTINATIONS (TABLES 12-13)

- Thirty-three percent of all inquirers have visited Las Vegas in the past 12 months, while 22 percent have visited Tucson and 21 percent Orlando or Miami. As in the past, travelers' visitation patterns are tied closely to the region in which they reside.
- The factors most important to inquirers when selecting a destination to visit are the variety of activities available(40%) followed by the weather (36%) and the scenery (25%).

ACTIVITIES PARTICIPATED IN (TABLES 14-16)

- As has been the case in prior years, dining (97%) is the most frequently participated in activity, followed by visits to downtown Scottsdale (88%), shopping (86%) and day trips (78%). These readings are very consistent with last year, however, day trips, overnight trips and downtown visits record large increases.

ACTIVITIES PARTICIPATED IN

- Seventy-three percent of visitors who dined while in Scottsdale visited fine dining restaurants, while 69 percent visited fast casual restaurants and 37 percent fast food restaurants.

EVALUATION OF SCOTTSDALE AS A VACATION DESTINATION (TABLES 17-19)

- Over nine out of ten inquirers who have visited Scottsdale (95%) continue to rate it as either an excellent (49%) or good (46%) vacation destination compared to other areas they have visited. In comparison, only five percent rate the city as just okay and less than one percent rate it as poor. The excellent rating of 49 percent is down from 56 to 58 percent over the last several years.
- Nine out of ten visitors (90%) indicate they would be either extremely (68%) or very likely (22%) to recommend Scottsdale to a friend or family member. This pattern is evident across demographic subgroups.
- When visitors are asked to evaluate Scottsdale's transportation options such as cabs, trolleys and buses, 55 percent are not sure. Eighty-three percent of visitors with an opinion offer either an excellent (32%) or good (51%) ratings.

UTILIZATION OF SKY HARBOR AIRPORT (TABLE 20)

- Sixty-eight percent of visitors arrived in the metro area via Sky Harbor Airport and 62 percent of these visitors found it very easy getting to Scottsdale from the airport – down from 71 percent last year.

RECEIPT OF SCOTTSDALE CVB MATERIALS (TABLES 21-24)

- Seven out of ten Scottsdale visitors (70%) indicate they received printed materials from the Scottsdale CVB. This reading has remained relatively stable over the past few years but is down from a high of 80 percent in 2005.
- The materials the CVB distributes continue to be viewed positively by visitors, with 62 percent indicating they were very useful and 32 percent somewhat useful. Six percent of visitors indicate the materials were not useful.

- The most requested additional information from visitors are maps (16%), coupons (8%) and a calendar of events (6%).
- The most relied on websites for travel are Google (27%) and Trip Advisor (17%).

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

SCOTTSDALE VISITATION PATTERNS

Fifty-eight percent of inquirers have visited Scottsdale since contacting the CVB, while an additional 27 percent indicate they will visit in the next 12 months. This overall visitation reading of 85 percent represents an increase from last year's reading of 80 percent and the first year over year increase since 2012. Also note that the actual visitation reading of 58 percent is up from 46 percent last year.

The data also reveals several other interesting patterns:

- Actual visitation by inquirers who contacted the CVB via the Bureau's website continues to reveal a higher reading (61%) than among those who contacted the CVB via other means (49%).
- Inquirers 35 to 54 (61%) reveal the highest actual visitation readings.
- Actual visitation to Scottsdale increases with increased income. This pattern is consistent with previous findings.
- Inquirers from each of the regions record actual visitation readings which are up from last year: West (54% vs. 48%); Northeast (61% vs. 47%); South (53% vs. 45%); Midwest (64% vs. 46%); foreign (58% vs. 44%).

ACTIVITIES PARTICIPATED IN

Overnight Scottsdale visitors were asked to indicate if they participated in each of 17 specific activities during their visit. As has been the case in prior years, dining (97%) is the most frequently participated in activity, followed by visits to downtown Scottsdale (88%), shopping (86%) and day trips (78%). These readings are very consistent with last year, however, day trips, overnight trips and downtown visits recorded large increases.

EVALUATION OF SCOTTSDALE AS A VACATION DESTINATION

Over nine out of ten inquirers who have visited Scottsdale (95%) continue to rate it as either an excellent (49%) or good (46%) vacation destination compared to other areas they have visited. In comparison, only five percent rate the city as just okay and one percent rate it as poor. The excellent rating of 49 percent is down from 56 to 58 percent over the last several years. Also note that visitors under 35 offer the highest poor reading (10%).

The main reasons that visitors offer only a just okay or poor rating are: overpriced (5 responses), limited tourist attractions/activities (3), hard to get around (3), weather (2), traffic (2), too crowded (2) and lack of big city feel (2). No other comments received more than one response.

Sixty-eight percent of visitors arrived in the metro area via Sky Harbor Airport and 62 percent of these visitors found it very easy getting to Scottsdale from the airport – down from 71 percent last year. Eight visitors found it difficult and they felt airport-provided maps (3 responses), less construction/better airport exit signage (2), shuttles to rental car facility (2) and better drivers (1) would have reduced the difficulty.
